An exciting opportunity exists for a bright & dynamic Podiatrist to work in one of Australia's coolest suburbs. We're an uber cool clinic in the heart of Brunswick Street, Fitzroy, surrounded by cafes, restaurants, bars, live music venues, galleries and bespoke shops. You'll love working in our freshly renovated contemporary space, in one of Fitzroy's grandest buildings.

Fitzroy Podiatry has an excellent long term reputation within our local community and the many surrounding gyms, pilates studios, GPs, allied health practitioners and radiology imaging services etc. with whom we enjoy collaborating. We use 3D scanning technology, Cliniko online practice management software and reception support.

Our patient base is friendly and intelligent, with humorous and invigorating conversations a regular part of the day. Our Fitzroy community is committed to their wellness and health, enthusiastically committing to thorough treatment plans and preventative care. Our varied case-load sees a healthy balance between acute and chronic sports injuries, biomechanical assessments, orthotics and general podiatry (no nursing homes, home visits or high risk wound care).

This locum position will suit a lively and confident individual who has varied intellectual and life interests, possibly creative, who loves both people and Podiatry. The role will be suited to an experienced Podiatrist who is confident working autonomously. Long term opportunities exist, including transitioning to a full time position if desired.

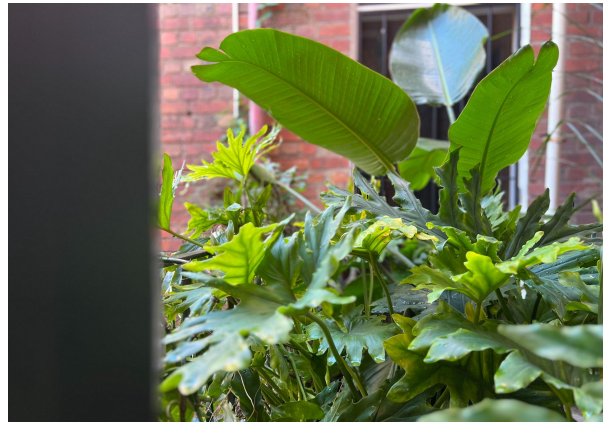

Necessary skills include time management, organization, and clear verbal and written communication. Professional and social courtesies are essential, as is a natural blend with our positive clinic culture and values.

If this piques your interest, please send a quick email to hr@fitzroypodiatry.com.au

We look forward to hearing from you soon!
